

alt. theatre
cultural diversity and the stage

Vol. 5, No. 2 MAY 2007

Habitual Thought
in a Theatre of Education

6
Editorial by Edward Little

The Future in the Past:
Reinterpreting Cross-Gender Traditions for Today

10
Guillaume Bernardi considers how two new works by Canadian artists play with tradition to subvert notions of gender in the 2006 festival, Transformations: Expressions of Gender Roles in Asian Dance held at Toronto's Harbourfront Theatre.

The Borders of Rights—Reflections on PSi #12:
Performing Rights

15
After attending the twelfth Performance Studies international conference, Megan Macdonald reflects on the issue of human rights through the concept of "borders"—both external and internal.

"I am not going to be brown and act white":
A Conversation with Jani Lauzon
about Playing Shylock

18
Robert Ormsby speaks with Jani Lauzon about the repercussions of cross-casting culture and gender in her performance of Shylock in SITR's The Merchant of Venice.

The Line Between Theatre and Politics:
The Seventh Triennial Women Playwrights
International Conference

24
Hope McIntyre's experiences in Indonesia prompt her to reconsider text-based Western definitions of theatre.

Arts, Social Action, and Cultural Diversity in the Downtown Eastside Heart of the City Festival

30
Savannah Walling describes Vancouver's Downtown Eastside self-mobilization in community-led renewal through its annual Heart of the City Festival.

Book Review

36
Janet Amos reviews the inspiring stories of theatre making a difference in Theatre and Empowerment: Community Drama on the World Stage edited by Richard Boon and Jane Plastow.